English Speaking intensive seminar

Instructor: Ellen Rettig-Miki

Course Description: This seminar is designed to give students exposure to and practice in using English for academic purposes, working students who already have some skill in English use. The course is taught entirely in English, giving students chances to practice using English in ways that they would need for academic contexts: this included areas such as introducing, explaining, presenting, discussing, and persuading. The level of this course is designed to offer a chance to practice English in a way authentic to real-life academic needs.
